"I found the helpline really useful when looking at my options following the breakdown of my marriage. The advisor was friendly, the advice was clear and helped me decide what I could do next and what my choices were."

"I didn't know where to turn - I just kept hitting a brick wall. I was drowning and had no one to help but the RBF were there for me. I can't believe how much my life has changed - we are safe now"

"The RBF is there for you and me. They won't tell the boss, it's just between you and them. The call I made that day changed my life. They are our charity and they work everyday to help people like you and me."

RBF Friends - the benefits

Support your industry or the industry you supply

Come together with the RBF and, not only will you be getting behind the only charity that solely supports UK railway people and their families, but you will also:

- Enhance your wellbeing strategy with the independent and confidential services we offer.
- Profile in our Friends communications and campaigns across the rail industry.
- Feature in our online directory with your logo and company profile.
- Receive a Friends logo for use in your internal and external communications.
- Access exclusive priority booking for our networking opportunities, including those hosted by our President, Pete Waterman.
- Benefit from a 10% discount when booking our flagship annual events.

How we help our railway family?

Funded entirely by donations, the RBF is the only charity dedicated solely to providing help and support to current, former and retired workers in times of need. We focus on the wellbeing, needs and concerns of those working in the industry today, offering advice and financial support to those who need it.

Why be an RBF Friend?

Just some of the benefits for your business

Train operators

Stay up to date with the services we offer to help your staff - supporting their welfare and ensuring you retain and attract the best talent. With a complex workforce, having more ways to support and communicate with your teams can really boost morale.

Rail suppliers and providers

Showing support for the industry you supply will give you greater insight and will really boost your profile. Our reach and communications are industry wide, encompassing all levels of employees.

Membership groups

Sending a message of support to your members - the very people we are helping. Keeping rail a great place to work, where employees are cared for and our wonderful industry is kept moving.
